Contents

Issue 289 February 2016

COVER IMAGE BY Jared Seger. See page 65 for our Nelson Cassinger profile.

Features

51 AAW: transforming woodturning in the US
The AAW looks back over the last 30 years

65 Nelson Cassinger in profile
This month Chris Publow tells us more about the life and work of Nelson Cassinger

83 In the workshop with... Larry Wise
We go in the workshop with Larry Wise

104 Featured Artist
We look at Kimberly Winkle's 'Binary', turned for the AAW's Creativity in Construction: A Collaboration in Materials

Projects

21 A home-built vacuum chamber
Walter Hall makes his own vacuum chamber for stabilising pen blanks

33 Long hole bored lamps
Colwin Way uses the long hole boring technique to make two lamp designs

38 Birch
Bob Chapman turns hollow forms in birch ply

45 Hidden box earring stand
Andy Coates uses up some offcuts by turning this earring stand

Technical

15 Get set to turn
Richard Raffan gives guidance on kit to start turning

27 How to turn a perfect sphere
Richard Findley continues his new series by sharing a simple technique for turning a perfect sphere

57 The world beyond wood
Kurt Hertzog on turning materials other than wood

75 A cylindrical chess set
To end his series on chess sets, Mike Darlow turns a set based on cylinders

87 Candelabra
Philip Greenwood turns an elegant candelabra from three pieces of timber

NEWS, LATEST PRODUCTS, MAGAZINE UPLOADS & EVENTS
can all be found on www.woodworkersinstitute.com. These all appear on the magazine homepage and you can see a bigger selection by scrolling down the page and clicking on the individual stories. We also have an extensive online archive for you to browse

Subscribers!
Turn to page 92 for subscription special offers and you could save 30%!

WT_289_4_5_CONTENTS.JRmb.indd 4 22/12/2015 09:33