Wizardry in Wood

The exhibition will feature works by over 30 contemporary turners and two extensive curated collections of outstanding modern and historical pieces. Live turning demonstrations will he held every day and guided talks given to visitors.

The Turners' Company also holds biennial Turning Competitions. These formed part of Wizardry in Wood 2008 and 2012 and will also feature at Wizardry in Wood 2016.

WCT 2016 Competitions

Created for both professional and amateur woodturners, The Worshipful Company of Turners launches its 2016 competitions at Carpenters' Hall in the City of London. Also supporting junior turners in schools and colleges, it is the largest of its kind in Europe with entries from the UK and abroad.

All entries registered with the Turners' Company by Monday 12 September and received by 11.30am on Tuesday 11 October will be shown as part of the Wizardry in Wood exhibition.

Wizardry in Wood is held between 12-15 October at Carpenters' Hall and expects to attract several thousand visitors. The Turners' Company competitions are held every two years and every fourth year in conjunction with Wizardry in Wood. Nic Somers, Chairman of the Wizardry in Wood Committee of the Turners' Company said: "Following the outstanding success of the 2014 competitions and the large number of marvellous entries, we look forward to providing a platform for the very best in the craft to be shown at the exhibition in October".
